Senate Foes Of War Keep Up Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee takes up today an emergency military fund request for the Viet Nam war while Senate critics signal continued attacks on President Johnson's Southeast Asia policies.

The committee was expected to approve a measure which would authorize $4.8 billion in defense costs. This would open the way to later action on the full $12.8-billion money package of military and economic aid Johnson asked.

In advance of this action, Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., spokesman for a group of 18 senators who opposed resumption of North Viet Nam bombing, predicted nearly unanimous Senate approval of the measure.

To Vote War Needs
"Nobody is going to vote against providing all of the equipment and firepower our men in Viet Nam need," he said in an interview. "But that doesn't mean that we won't continue to criticize the policies that have put them in Viet Nam and which threaten to expand the war."

The committee heard retired Army Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin predict Tuesday that any massive increase in U. S. troops in Viet Nam might spur the Communists to reopen the war in Korea.

In Gavin's view, the United States is in the position of a tightrope walker, with the enemy able to cut the rope.

"We can't afford to pull out," he said, "but we shouldn't escalate."

Gavin's thesis that the United States should stand pat with the approximately 200,000 troops it now has in South Viet Nam was challenged quickly by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. He said at a New York news conference that Gavin seemed to be urging the consolidation of U. S. troops in enclaves.

Fear China War
McNamara added: "While I don't believe we would be defeated in the narrow sense of the terms, it is almost certain to enable the Viet Cong to roam the countryside, subject the people not now under their control to their control, achieve the full destruction of the government and ultimately lead to the overthrow of the government and thereby lead to the defeat of the South Vietnamese military force."

Chairman J.W. Fulbright said after Gavin left the stand that the committee is worried whether the hostilities will involve an eventual war with China. He said this concern is greater than any he has encountered in 20 years.

Fulbright said there were "partisan differences" about the Korean War, but noted it was supported by the United Nations. He said there were no questions then, as now, about "the legal basis for the war."

Hospital Lobby Scandal Brings Lobby Curb Cry

LANSING (AP) — Stronger state lobby control laws will be considered this year, a House leader promised Tuesday after arrests climaxed a lobbying investigation by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

Kelley charged the Peoples Community Hospital Authority and its former lobbyist and executive director, Kenneth Gremore, with "a shocking misuse of public funds" which Kelley said included spending "tens of thousands of dollars...for lavish entertainment."

Gremore was arraigned on embezzlement and conspiracy charges in Detroit's Court of Common Pleas Tuesday, hours

Ho Letter To India Didn't Talk Of Peace

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The Indian government today chilled hopes that a letter from North Viet Nam's President Ho Chi Minh may have contained the peace talk signal awaited by the Johnson administration.

In the midst of worldwide speculation over the meaning of Ho's Jan. 24 message to Indian President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, an official government spokesman said it was "mostly concerned with stating the position of his country."

Woodcock May Face Romney

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leonard Woodcock, vice president of the United Auto Workers Union, said Tuesday he may run for governor of Michigan this year against Republican Gov. George Romney.

"He certainly merits opposition," Woodcock said of Romney, former auto company executive.

Woodcock said he is considering the race and will make up his mind within the next few weeks.

He said he does not fear his long experience as a union official would label him a "labor" candidate.

"This is a stereotype and I think it is a myth," Woodcock said, adding there is no reason a labor union official should be considered a "second class political citizen."

Asked about reports that Rep. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., co-author of the Landrum-Griffin Labor Act, might run for the Senate, Woodcock said "I would guess we would oppose him joyously."

Midwest Has Labor Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz Tuesday told Congress some manpower shortages apparently are developing, especially in the industrialized Great Lakes area. Milwaukee and Detroit were cited as examples.

Testifying before the Senate House Economic Committee, Wirtz said a survey team that made a special study of Milwaukee found there is no general or critical shortage of manpower, but the supply of skilled labor has been stretched near its limits.

"There is a real shortage of experienced highly skilled workers, particularly machinists; also of professional workers," Wirtz quoted the survey.

Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics also testified. He said some Milwaukee firms have instituted training programs, redesigned their jobs for less skilled workers and relaxed hiring specifications.

Detroit, he said, had a November unemployment rate of 2.2 per cent, lowest since the Korean War. He said tool and die shops and construction industries were said to be feeling pinches, and the automobile industry using overtime to maintain schedules.

Johnson Confident 'We Shall Prevail'

Auto Workers Face Jail For Defying Court

LANSING (AP) — Eight union members will have to serve jail sentences for their part in violence surrounding the 1959 strike against Cross Co., the Michigan Supreme Court ruled Tuesday.

The High Court upheld sentences for contempt of court meted out by Judge Alton Noe of Macomb County Circuit Court to Russell Leach, then president of Local 155 of the United Auto Workers, and members Archie Beveridge, Theodore VanEe, Anthony Palmeri, Peter Kapuscinski, Joseph Horonzy, Leo Herbert and Gordon Buchanan.

The sentences were imposed for violation of a court injunction.

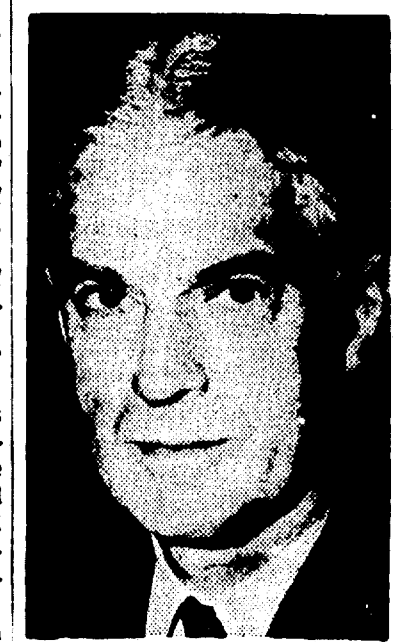

The union struck the automation machinery manufacturer in the Detroit suburb of Fraser in 1959.

Leach, Beveridge and VanEe were fined $100 and sentenced to 10 days in jail. The others were fined $50 and sentenced to five days.

The opinion, written by Justice Paul Adams and signed by all seven others, also upheld a $250 fine against the local union.

The High Court dismissed the sentence of Gus Caravas on the basis that affidavits did not show he took part in a stone-throwing incident or in a mass picketing demonstration which had been prohibited by a court injunction.

Will Clayton Is Dead At 86

Will Clayton

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — At an age when most men are looking forward to retirement, Will Clayton resigned as head of the world's largest cotton business and went into government service.

William Lockhart Clayton was a multimillionaire and known as "King Cotton Himself," when he joined the New Deal in 1940 at the age of 60.

In 1944 he became assistant secretary of state for economic affairs. He developed the concept of the Marshall Plan for European recovery after World War I and administered the program.

Clayton, who proved himself adept in the fields of economics, politics and national affairs, as well as cotton, died in a Houston hospital Tuesday after suffering a heart attack at his home. He was 86.

Detroit Police Kill Fleeing Boy

DETROIT (AP) — A 15-year-old youth, fleeing after Detroit police said he jumped from a stolen car, was shot to death today in suburban Dearborn. Police said an accomplice escaped.

The slain youth was identified as James Christopher O'Brien of Detroit.

Humphrey Will Push Economic Help To Saigon

HONOLULU (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey headed for Saigon today to press for vigorous action on President Johnson's demands for political, economic and social progress for warring South Viet Nam.

After a hurried airport conference with the President in Los Angeles Tuesday night Humphrey flew to Honolulu for a six-hour stopover before continuing on across the Pacific.

Flying from Honolulu with Humphrey were South Viet Nam's current top leaders, who gave abundant evidence Tuesday that they want a tougher war against Communist North Viet Nam along with the programs to better the life of the peasants.

10-Day Mission
The vice president is on a 10- or 12-day mission that also will take him to about five other Asian nations. Officials here said they did not know Humphrey's next stop after South Viet Nam.

Sources in Washington said Humphrey's tour would include the capitals of Thailand, Malaysia, Australia and India. Prime Minister Keith Holyoake of New Zealand said the vice president also would go to Auckland. Informal sources in Bangkok said the vice president would fly to the Thai capital from Saigon Friday night and would stay until Saturday afternoon.

First Job
The first job assigned him by the President is to familiarize himself with the various economic, social and political improvement projects, to spur the efforts on, and to return to the United States in a position to help nurture the work at the Washington end.

In the other capitals on his itinerary, the vice president will "explain what was done at Honolulu and its meaning and ask for the support of others," Johnson said in Los Angeles.

Social progress for the South Vietnamese people was a refrain repeated with drumbeat regularity and rising intensity during the mid-Pacific conference involving Johnson, key Cabinet officers and aides, and nine of the leaders of South Viet Nam's military government.

Viet Leaders Press For More Bombs On Cong

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson returned today from the Honolulu conference confident "we shall prevail" in the battle against aggression in Viet Nam. He says he will meet again with South Vietnamese leaders "within the next few months."

Declaring he felt "refreshed and confident" from his talks with top Vietnamese officials, Johnson said in a statement during a Los Angeles stopover Tuesday night that they know social and political progress "cannot wait until the guns grow silent and terrorism stops."

During his 105-minute Los Angeles stop, Johnson conferred with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, then wished him Godspeed on a mission to Saigon to spur the political, economic and social programs outlined at Honolulu.

War To Continue
Johnson then headed back to Washington in the presidential jet which had carried him to Hawaii last Saturday. Within two minutes of the President's takeoff Humphrey was off across the Pacific on his way to Honolulu to join the South Vietnamese leaders for the trip to Saigon. The vice president also plans to visit some additional Asian capitals.

Johnson's jet landed at near-by Andrews Air Force base at 5:22 a.m. (EST). The President switched to a helicopter for the hop to the White House, touching down on the south lawn 16 minutes later.

Earlier Tuesday, Johnson and the Vietnamese chiefs ended three days of what they called "the most intense and friendly discussion." In a "Declaration of Honolulu," they vowed to fight aggression, meet the hopes of the people of South Viet Nam and press the search for lasting peace.

Although the communists emphasized the nonmilitary programs for economic and social improvement, South Viet Nam's leaders made it plain in a news conference that they favored stepped-up air operations against the chief North Vietnamese port of Haiphong and other industrial targets.

Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu said he would be unwilling to sit down at a conference table with representatives of the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong guerrillas. U. S. officials have said NLF representation would not be a roadblock to the start of negotiations.

Economics Stressed
The 10-point communique said in the only paragraph devoted to military matters that "there was a full discussion of the military situation and of military plans and programs" and added without elaboration:

"The leaders of the two governments reached full agreement on a policy of growing military effectiveness and of still closer cooperation between the military forces of Viet Nam and those of the United States."

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, at the earlier news conference, referred to 1967 as "the year we will have free elections" and also when "we will eliminate the influence of the Communists in South Viet Nam."

The United States, for its part, pledged to fight aggression, to support "the principles of the self-determination of peoples and of government by consent of the governed," to work to stamp out hunger, ignorance and disease and stressed that "no path to peace shall be unexplored."

Fight Inflation
Among the points in the communique section were these:
—The two governments will "take further concrete steps to combat inflation."
—High priority will be given to an "intensified program of rural construction."
—Efforts will be stepped up to bring agricultural knowhow "to the farmer in the fields" and for "more rapid land reform."
—Programs in health and education would be intensified.
—Americans will assist programs to care for refugees including providing schools for refugee children.

Arrest

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Clarence D. Burrill, 46, formerly of Saginaw, Mich., was arrested by the FBI Tuesday and charged with interstate flight to avoid prosecution. Burrill is accused of embezzling $13,000 from a Saginaw lumber company for which he worked.

'Mossler No Homo'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A friend and protégé of Jacques Mossler testified today that Mossler's wife, Candace, tried to convince the witness after her husband's slaying that the victim had been a homosexual.

"Was Mr. Mossler a homosexual?" the witness, Vincent Caltagirone, was asked.

"Definitely not," he replied.

However, this exchange was stricken from the record shortly afterward when Caltagirone testified under cross-examination that he could not himself define homosexuality.

Caltagirone, 39, a former employee of Mossler, was divorced in 1961 from the sister of Jack Valenti, a close aide to President Lyndon B. Johnson. His relations with the Mossler family preceded and followed the divorce.

Called Lovers
Mrs. Mossler, who gives her age as 39, is on trial with her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, 29, for first-degree murder in the June 30, 1964 bludgeoning of her multimillionaire husband. The state describes Mrs. Mossler and her nephew as lovers.

Duty In Pakistan:

Americans Help Improve Schools

How the educational system of East Pakistan was revised and improved along American lines, plus glimpses of life in that country through the eyes of American educators were given the Rotary Club of Escanaba at its meeting Tuesday noon at the House of Ludington.

The speakers, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Peterson of Escanaba, lived for four years in East Pakistan in connection with his work as American adviser to the educational development project, which was supported by a grant of the Ford Foundation.

Peterson was at that time a member of the University of Chicago staff. He is now assistant superintendent of the Escanaba Area Public Schools. Peterson, a Rotarian, was introduced by Sherwood Trotter of the club's program committee. The meeting was conducted by President Don Yoel.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson illustrated their talk with color slides depicting the construction and establishment of schools, the training sessions for teachers, and the many projects for the development of the educational system along American rather than British lines.

The total educational structure of the nation was involved in the program that brought new concepts of schooling to the nation and its people—including the development of job skills and improved agricultural methods as well as a curriculum typifying the American ideal of educational opportunity for everyone.

"I found that my greatest asset was my wife," said Peterson. Mrs. Peterson, a teacher of the first grade, was in turn influential in convincing Pakistani educators that girls also should be received into the schools.

Mrs. Peterson's comments about the people, their living conditions, social habits, religious customs, and what—at least to American eyes—was a lack of modern sanitation revealed keen perception and sympathetic insight.

The Petersons spent four years in East Pakistan. He was one of 14 advisors on the project and was in charge of the curriculum study.

The educational system established with the aid of Peterson and the others is based in Western experience, "but in keeping with Muslim tradition and faith."

Forty-six pilot schools were organized, plus two university centers and other educational facilities that are now managed by more than 700 Pakistani, Peterson reported. "We went there to serve—and we learned to love the country and its people," the Petersons said.

School District Could End Year Without Deficit

The Escanaba Area Board of Education, concerned about reported overdrifts in some of its budgeted accounts, learned at its regular meeting Tuesday night that the school district could wipe out all deficits in school accounts and start the 1966-67 school year next fall in the black.

The school district entered the current year with a deficit of about $110,000 after operating in 1964-65 with a deficit budget.

Supt. of Schools Luther M. Barrett told the Board that the district will receive $67,000 this spring in state aid under the new program of aid to low valuation districts.

The funds were not included in the regular school budget of $1,692,745 approved last July and coupled with $34,398 anticipated revenue in excess of the budget could bring the deficit nearly even with the deficit — if the funds are used for that purpose.

Could Save Interest

Repayment at the end of the school year would save the school district several thousand dollars in interest charges over the next several years. The original plans called for retirement of loans for 1964-65 operations to be paid back over a five-year period.

Figures were disclosed as the Board examined budget-control reports through January prepared by Barrett and Stephen C. Baltic, business manager. Several members of the board, including Forrest Henslee, were concerned over expenditures in some areas of school operations which already exceeded budgeted amounts.

Henslee said some of the overdrifts could be attributed to "bad budgeting" on the part of the board and administration, but he demanded explanations of purchasing controls and methods used by the school administration to guard against general budget overdrifts.

Budget Defended

He said that if the administration could not control purchases by teachers and departments to generally keep within budgeted amounts, then the budget "isn't worth the paper it's written on."

Barrett, who prepared the budget last year, defended it as a good one, but said it was an impossibility to determine in advance exact expenses on every line item. He said that while some teachers are over their accounts, most are below and that the administration is holding within its budget in all general categories.

The Board has been considering methods to improve its business policies and procedures, including examination of school districts which have successful programs.

Henslee and Wheaton Strom were appointed as a two-man committee to review policies and procedures with Baltic prior to the next meeting.

The financial discussions highlighted an otherwise routine meeting. A discussion on proposed curriculum changes recommended by O. E. Peterson, assistant superintendent, was delayed. Peterson informed President Carleton Olsen that because of recent illness he needed an additional two weeks

Miss Mattson Queen Choice

A practical nursing student at Bay de Noc Community College, blonde and pretty Emmy Lou Mattson of Felch, was crowned the College's "Snow Queen" candidate Tuesday night.

As the College's queen she will represent Bay de Noc in the Michigan Snow Queen contest to be held at Northern Michigan University, Marquette, Feb. 25-26.

Miss Mattson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walfrid I. Mattson of Felch and graduated from the Felch High School in 1965. She was sponsored in the contest by the Nursing Club.

Richard Rinehart, president of Bay de Noc Community College, crowned Miss Mattson at a program at the College student center, at which Ken Wicklander was master of ceremonies.

Other contest entries were Jean Anders, Linda Good, Cherie Maskart and Joyce Trombley.

Miss Mattson was presented with a bouquet of red roses by Kenton Anderson, Student Government president. The committee which planned the contest was headed by Gary Owens and Rudy Sydmark.

Mrs. E. Erickson Guest Speaker At B&PW Meeting

Escanaba Business and Professional Women's Club met last evening at the Sherman Hotel for their regular dinner meeting. Despite bad flying weather that grounded her in Milwaukee yesterday, Mrs. Estella Erickson made it back to Escanaba by train and auto in time to present her informative talk on, "The Woman and Her Money."

Mrs. E. Erickson

Mrs. Erickson, a BPW member and a sales representative for Investors Diversified Services, spoke on the need for careful and thoughtful planning today for a financially secure tomorrow. She stated that continuing changes in the economy and structure make it difficult for the individual to build a sound program for the future without expert guidance.

A wise woman, according to Mrs. Erickson, would invest in industry — it is the backbone of the country. Quoting from a national news magazine, she said, "If the war in Vietnam should end, the war on poverty and the rebuilding of our cities would become top priorities for government spending. Planners have estimated that 2 trillion, 200 billion dollars would need to be spent by the government to modernize the cities of America and deal with the huge growth that lies ahead."

During a short business meeting, it was decided to contribute to the Ramallah Training School for girls which is a national and international project of BFW. It is located in Jordan, near Jericho and Jerusalem and trains refugee girls to earn their living in various vocations. The finance committee, consisting of Myrtle Bertollet, Martha Olson, Nancy Petry and Mary Newton was in charge of the meeting.

Library Reports Circulation At New High Level

The Escanaba Public Library Board in meeting Tuesday night heard reports that adult book circulation has increased 382 and periodical circulation is up 296 in January over the corresponding month in 1965.

Book collections in the library now total 35,588 volumes, a new high.

Dr. Leonard Vader, president of the Board, and Charles Folio, trustee, are the budget committee to work with Librarian John Ptacek in the preparation of the library budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

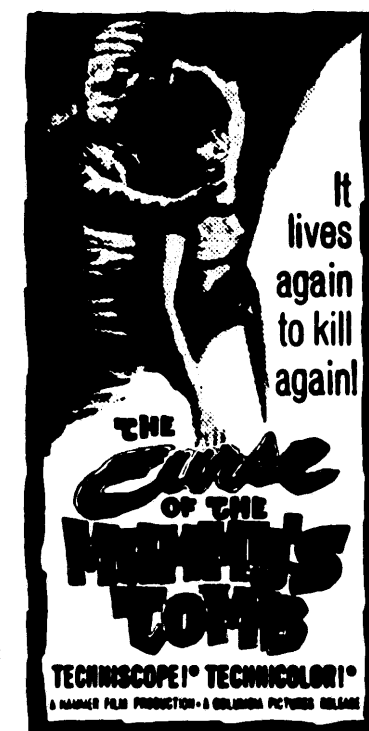

Thaxter Shaw and Victor Powers, trustees, were named to a building and site committee with the librarian to communicate with the city manager in connection with the Board's desire to have the library included in the city's urban renewal program.

The Board approved keeping the library open on Washington's birthday anniversary, Feb. 22.

Movies At School

A few years ago some persons thought that the county school superintendents of Michigan were headed for the ash heap. They managed the school census and took care of some other small chores of public education, but they were regarded chiefly as counselors to the rural school districts which didn't have a superintendent.

As consolidation proceeded and these little districts dropped into bigger baskets the county superintendents — they had been called "county school commissioners" earlier — appeared about to become unemployed.

That dismal prospect has evaporated in a twinkling and now they're sitting pretty for a future that looks very promising. The consolidations which were going to eliminate them have created a bigger job for them and they have become the administrators of some new programs and seem to have a role as the federal government's educational agents in the new intermediate school districts of Michigan.

There are seven of these new intermediate school districts in the Upper Peninsula. Every school district in Michigan must be in one and if it has less than 5,000 school population it must combine with another district to make the minimum. As state bait there's a $3,500 carrot each year for three years to all counties joining intermediate districts.

The U.P. intermediate districts, created or being created are: Chippewa-Mackinac-Luce; Schoolcraft-Delta; Marquette-Alger; Houghton-Baraga-Keweenaw; Ontonagon-Gogebic; Dickinson-Iron; and Menominee.

They get a fraction of a mill for support of the district superintendent's office and they also get state aid, which is supposed to be in the ratio of 65% state-35% local, but which has been nearer 50-50. First big project of the new intermediate districts is special education — schooling for the handicapped. The local district superintendents have recommended it and there'll be elections to raise millage for it.

Another intermediate district project on which the intermediate superintendents are meeting this Thursday at Northern Michigan University with consultants from the Michigan State Library is a teaching materials center for the Upper Peninsula.

The State Library Division of the Michigan Department of Education will set up 10 such centers in the state and give each of them grants of $40,000 a year to create a library of movies, film strips, teachers' books and other visual aids to teaching.

It is interesting and prophetic that the responsibility for organizing this important chest of teaching tools should be placed with the intermediate school district superintendents. They have not been the most progressive elements in our educational forces, but with their new authority and means they can be expected to improve.

They said that the Upper Peninsula's schools should have access to more visual aids; that modern schooling can't be as good as it should be without them. ("People learn by seeing as well as hearing.") For schools not to use modern techniques that television employs to influence Americans so mightily would be backward. On this judgment U.P. schools don't rate well on visual aid use. Only the Escanaba Area School District has a full time visual aids director and he says his district doesn't use visual aids enough.

The intermediate district superintendents said visual aids wouldn't have full value unless "used right" — unless fitted into a teaching plan that called for their use. Many of our teachers today haven't been schooled in their use. Few of our teachers are allowed time to plan for their use.

Northern Michigan University has a film center but schools seem to tend to swamp it with peak requests at times. The University of Michigan ended its resident U.P. film library because it was so little used. The intermediate superintendents, the State Library and Northern have an opportunity to make an important contribution to U.P. schooling with provision of visual aids and services that implement their usage under this Elementary and Secondary Education Act program.

Tax Break For Disabled Asked

LANSING (AP) — Disabled persons over 50 would be granted a property tax exemption similar to that given the elderly under terms of a bill introduced in the House Monday by Rep. Lucille McCollough.

It would exempt from taxes the first $2,500 on a house with a state equalized valuation of $10,000 (about $20,000 in true cash value) for persons who met the age requirement and fit the definitions of total disability used by the state.

Mrs. McCollough, sponsor of the senior citizens bill, said the cost of her latest measure has not yet been determined. The number of persons affected also has yet to be estimated, she added.

She also introduced two bills to strengthen safeguards against a recurrence of the tuberculosis outbreak at a Garden City nursery school.

"The first, she said, 'would require immunization and tuberculin tests of all children attending a child care institution...for children under 18.'

"The second requires examinations of all teachers and other employees of 'public, private, parochial and denominational institutions, child care institutions, nurseries and those conducting 'Head Start' programs," she said.

Cities Greatest Pollution Cause

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Cities which dump raw sewage into streams and rivers are the biggest offenders in water pollution in the United States, says the vice president of the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

Sam S. Studebaker, of Tipp City, Ohio, said the nation would face a daily shortage of a billion gallons of quality water by the end of the century.

Speaking at the 25th annual convention of the association, he said: "We are making headway on soil conservation, but we are slipping backwards on water pollution."

Going Broke Is Path To Riches, California Millionaire Insists

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A man who says going broke can help you get rich is giving $1 million to Claremont Men's College.

The liberal arts college with 650 students in the nearby community of Claremont made the announcement today. Modestus R. Bauer, 77, Long Beach, Calif., is the guest of honor at a Board of Trustees luncheon.

After his million dollars builds a new campus administrative headquarters, Bauer Hall, Bauer will still have $19 million.

He made a $950,000 fortune in Chicago real estate and stocks, lost it during the depression, then made an even bigger one.

Bauer says: "If you can survive that greatest financial hazard — going broke — you will be a stronger, bigger, better man. It gives you the ammunition to rise to greater heights."

Once Swept Floors Bauer, born in Vincennes, Ind., was reared by his widowed dressmaker mother in Chicago.

There were times, he said, when they went hungry — "and every man should know what it's like to be hungry because then it's so nice to have some food."

At 14, Bauer, an only child, went to work. He swept the floor, washed windows and built the fire in a real estate office at $3 a week. At 17 his boss added another duty — selling real estate on commission.

"I began to make money — so much that I dropped out of Englewood High School at the end of my second year," said Bauer. "At 18 I was able to get married. At 21 I had saved approximately $25,000."

Borrowed $35,000 He borrowed $35,000 more and, with his real estate boss, opened a bank. In 1920 they sold out and Bauer retired at 31 with $200,000. He invested in the stock market and by 1929 had $950,000 which vanished in the Wall Street crash.

"I was offered two jobs — $6-

000-a-year cashier in a new bank and $3,000-a-year customer's man in a brokerage firm," Bauer said.

"My wife said, 'Stay where you'll be the happiest — in the stock market.' Most women would have said, 'Take the $6,000.' But she had that instinct, that woman's intuition. I was a lousy banker anyway. Never could foresee on anybody."

Today one of Modestus and Evelyn Bauer's two Long Beach homes occupies a block along the ocean. The other is on the bay.

Bauer is a director of Armour & Co., the Chicago meat-packing firm; a director of worldwide Rheem Manufacturing Co., and a director of the Chicago Eastern Illinois Railroad.

A newspaper advertisement, he said, attracted him to Claremont Men's College's needs for expansion money. The commitment is outright — no proceeds withheld.

"I don't think I've been in church for 50 years," Bauer said, "but I believe there's an accounting between man and fate, and the more you give away, the more you get back."

Mao's Nuclear Adventure

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Curiously enough, Red China may become a captive of her expensive nuclear missile program.

To develop a meaningful production of nuclear weapons and missile delivery systems, Mao Tse-tung must use a hefty slice of Communist China's technical brains and critical resources for a decade.

Sustained diversion of scientists and engineers, raw materials, manufacturing skills and funds to the nuclear program would hold down Mao's ability to wage aggressive war, expand his industry and solve agricultural shortages.

Soviet Russia's slowdown in industrial growth began when she started to divert more skilled men and resources to nuclear weapons and space while trying to keep her armies large and well-equipped.

Mao at home already is faced with continuing enormous economic problems. Farm food output is now believed at about the 1957 level. But Red China's population has grown 100 million since 1957. This year Mao will have to import 6 million tons of grain and keep his people on short rations.

Mao has been making progress in industrial development, in the production of such scarce resources as petroleum and in building a national network of repair facilities. But his industry is plagued with shortages and breakdowns.

Mao's Red China, like Brezhnev's Russia, has not solved the problem of allocating scarce materials. Therefore, mainland China's development is spotty.

More Chinese are becoming impatient with this progress. The revolutionary generation is getting old. Many men who have grown up in the last 20 years don't have the old fervor. They want more evident material progress.

The Communist Chinese are not living as well as the Japanese, the Nationalist Chinese or Formosa, the South Vietnamese or the South Koreans.

These home problems put heavy pressure on Mao to be cautious, however loudly his propagandists speak in public.

But "caution" as applied to Mao must be defined. Caution won't keep Mao from "careful" adventures on the Indian border (but he'll make certain he has a line of retreat). Caution won't keep him from shelling Quemoy and Matsu off the China coast opposite Formosa. Caution won't keep him from urging his aid to North Viet Nam nor make him reluctant to send revolutionary agents to Africa, Latin America, Thailand or Burma.

It probably wouldn't prevent him from sending in his armies if U. S. troops moved up to the China border in North Viet Nam.

But caution (and his domestic problems) would make it extremely difficult for Mao to send his armies to South Viet Nam or infiltrate "volunteer" cadres in numbers large enough to invite U. S. bombing of China.

MOVIES
I am writing to see if something of this nature can be brought to the public eye.

About a week ago my wife and I had the good fortune to be able to attend the local theater, of which I'm an avid fan, and have been since I was a small boy, when Saturday matinee was only 15 cents. Now it's $1 for adults and it's just not worth it for what a person has to put up with after he gets inside of the place.

I was never so disgusted and discouraged to see the way the children carry on while they are in the theater. They run up and down the aisles like it was a race track; they scream and shout to the top of their lungs, they kick the back of the seats and they never quit talking.

My wife and I personally had to tell three different groups of children to keep still so we could hear what was going on. I only saw the ushers come down the aisle once during the double feature and that was after I shouted to the top of my voice to one of the groups of children to be still.

When Mr. Jacobs ran that theater the children used to toe the mark or they were given their money back and put outside. I think he had the right idea.

It will be a long time before I attend another movie at the prices we have to pay nowadays and have to put up with such horseplay as I saw the last time I went. Yours for more discipline in movie houses. Orville Olsen Box 341

Questions And Answers

Q—Why is Thomas Gainsborough's famous portrait "The Blue Boy" so called?

A—The popular title comes from the blue silk suit the boy is wearing.

Q—Who made the smallest book in the world printed from movable type?

A—The Salmin Brothers of Padua, Italy in 1896—"The Galileo a Madama Cristina di Lorena." The book has 207 pages, a portrait of Galileo as a frontispiece and is 1/8-inch high and 7/16-inch wide.

Q—Was there a real King Cole, immortalized in nursery rhymes?

A—According to British tradition, King Cole was a king who is supposed to have reigned in the A. D. 200s.

Home Jobs Add Up To $7,800

Dear Ann Landers: All my married life I've felt like a nobody because I was "only a housewife." My husband made me feel that I should be grateful to him for putting food in my mouth and clothes on my back.

Today I read something that gave me a lift. If you print it I'll bet you'll give thousands of housewives a new lease on life.

The home economics department of our state college published a leaflet in chart form. It shows what a housewife is worth per week in dollars and cents on today's labor market. Here it is:

Cooking, table-setting, serving, at $2.00 an hour... $50.00. Dishwashing, at $1.25 an hour... $17.50.

Child care at 50c an hour (ridiculous since this is what most sitters get for just sitting) $17.50.

Routine housework, at $1.25 an hour... $22.50.

Laundry, at $1.25 an hour... $6.25.

Ironing, at $1.25 an hour... $6.25.

The chart suggests adding 25 per cent for miscellaneous work. So the grand total is $150 a week. On a yearly basis a housewife is worth $7800.

Believe it or not this leaflet has given me dignity. I no longer feel like a parasite. Tonight when Mr. Greathart comes home I'm going to greet him like a woman who earns almost $8,000 a year because that's what I am. —ASH-AMED NO LONGER.

Dear Ashamed No Longer: Housewives of America, unite! Clip this column for your husband. And as for you, Mr. Greathart, take that — and that — and that.

Dear Ann Landers: Five years ago I had a baby girl out of wedlock. I saw her while I was in the hospital and then turned her over to an adoption agency.

Since that time I married a wonderful, mature man who has a Ph. D. in education and is now teaching. We have a child and hope to have more. I have not been honest with my husband about my past, and this bothers me terribly. What's more, my feeling of guilt seems to be growing instead of diminishing.

Cancer Crusade:

U.P. Counties Plan Campaigns

Local units of the American Cancer Society met in Escanaba on Tuesday for a Cancer Crusade training session, part of the program that is designed to educate the public to cancer's danger and to save lives.

Delta, Schoolcraft and Menominee county Cancer Society delegates attended the luncheon meeting at the House of Ludington. About 50 volunteer workers from the three counties met with Robert Waite, Lansing, and Ellis Griner, Manistique, field representative, of the Michigan Division, American Cancer Society.

"Three hundred thousand Americans will die of cancer in 1966," said Waite. "Of this total, 67,000 will die needlessly because they have not sought medical help in time."

The Cancer societies will begin their effort to bring to the public the information about cancer as a part of the cancer Crusade to be held in April across the nation.

Jack Beck, chairman of the Delta County Cancer Crusade, said that the Delta organization is completed, with Arnold Ottensman and Paul Laviolette Co-chairmen in Escanaba; Mrs. Bernard Olson and Mrs. Norman Nelson co-chairmen for Gladstone.

Larry Bradford, 4-H Club agent for the county, is chairman in the townships; and Clyde Nyquist of Escanaba is labor and organization chairman for the county; with Carlton Johnson the recreational chairman for the Crusade.

The Cancer Crusade promotion is scheduled to start in Delta County the second week of March with the campaign fully under way by April 1, Beck said.

The Delta County quota for 1966 is $7,880 of which $3,940 will remain in the county. The funds go to support the Cancer Society's programs of education, research, and service.

The delegates from Schoolcraft and Menominee counties returned to their home counties with information and suggestions helpful in the organization of the campaigns for their Crusades.

CANCER CRUSADE campaign plans were discussed by Cancer Society officers at a meeting in Escanaba Tuesday. The Delta County Cancer Society group includes (from left) Arnold Ottensman, Escanaba co-chairman; Larry Bradford, township chairman; Clyde Nyquist, labor chairman; Mrs. Bernard Olson, Gladstone co-chairman; Jack Beck, general chairman; and Charles Ansbaugh, president. The Escanaba Yacht Club will meet at the Chamber of Commerce building at 8 tonight.

The February meeting of the Silver Spur Saddle Club will be held at the Mosier Community Hall in Danforth, Thursday, Feb. 10 at 7:30 p. m. Two films on Arabian horses will be shown, all persons interested in horses are welcome to attend.

All hockey activity scheduled for tonight at the Water Tower rink has been canceled. The Danforth Ski Hill will also be closed because of mild weather.

The Social Security office will be open to the public Saturday from 8:30 a. m. to noon. The office at 110 N. 13th St., is open from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Schaffer

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Beauchamp and son, Randy returned home from a visit with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Emmons in Little River, Kansas. They also visited with the Wallace Emmons in Burlingame, Kans.

Richard Sabourin, a senior at Houghton Tech and his brother, Paul Sabourin of Northern Michigan University were home for the weekend to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sabourin.

Pollock Heads U-M Visitors

"A Week-end with the Professors," which will offer a rare opportunity to residents of the Upper Peninsula to hear, to talk with, and to become acquainted with three outstanding members of the University of Michigan faculty, is planned for March 25 and 26 by the University's Extension Service at the House of Ludington.

Arrangements for the program are being made by Charles Pollock, assistant director of the Extension Service, Upper Peninsula.

Faculty members scheduled to present the colloquium on contemporary international relations, music, and political philosophy are Prof. James K. Pollock, internationally known in the field of political science; Prof. William P. Malm, specialist in oriental music; and Prof. Carl Cohen, a member of the philosophy department and holder of the 1962 U-M Distinguished Faculty Service Award.

The program, which opens with dinner on Friday evening, will feature four lectures, two of them by Prof. Pollock, with ample time allowed for discussion with the speakers and among those attending the conference.

Prof. Pollock's Friday evening lecture will focus on "Aspects of American Foreign Policy, and will be adapted to fit the international situation at the time of the lecture. His lecture on "The New Emphasis in Government—Intergovernmental Relations" will conclude the colloquium on Saturday evening. In this he will discuss the role of the states and the importance of all units of government working together.

Lions Initiate Three Members

The Escanaba Lions Club inducted three new members at its regular meeting Monday night at the Sherman Hotel.

Jim Schultz, Ron DeVos and John Good were initiated by Don Haapala, past district governor.

Lions International, largest service club in the world has over 778,000 members in more than 19,000 clubs all over the globe. It was announced that the Upper Peninsula District convention will be held June 3-5 at Munising.

Office Supply Week Starting

Office Service Co., 815 Ludington St., will be observing National Office Products Week beginning tomorrow through Feb. 19, President Karl Dickson announced today.

The national promotion, first of its kind in the industry, will feature well-known merchandise from the nation's leading manufacturers of office products and an opportunity for a European vacation and other contest awards.

One of features of the observance is an antique typewriter display furnished through the cooperation of John Slapp, Commercial Department head at Escanaba Area High School. Included in the 28 machine display are Williams, Pittsburg, Smith Premier, Bricksendorfer, Elliott Fisher, Densmore and Jewett machines, all of pre-1900 origins.

The Office Service Co. has been a Smith dealer since the company opened its doors in 1921 with the late W. H. Dickson, as president and general manager.

"Business men and women in the Escanaba area are invited to come in and see what's new in office machines," said Dickson, "with the more than 10,000 items regularly carried in stock to catch their interest."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams (Harbin's Studio)

Mr. And Mrs. Williams Will Mark Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams, 333 Lake St., will observe their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house and reception at the VFW hall Sunday, Feb. 13 beginning at 2:30 p.m.

The couple was married in Manistique, in the Presbyterian parsonage, Feb. 9, 1915. They have six children, Loretta Tyrrell, Manistique, Melbourne, in Garden City, Robert, at home, Russell, Newberry, Gerald in Sacramento, and Bruce in Phoenix, Ariz.

Mr. Williams, a native of Manistique, was employed many years by Edison Sault Electric Co. and served as its Manistique manager. Mrs. Williams, the former Margaret Byrnes, also is a native resident.

Fallout Shelter, Monitor Programs To Be Stepped Up

Programs to increase efficiency of fallout shelters, their managers and radiological monitoring operators are scheduled to begin in the county in two to three weeks, John Carstensen, Civil Defense director reports.

A meeting of CD directors from the five eastern U.P. counties was held in Sault Ste. Marie Friday on the programs. Capt. Jack Nemrava, deputy CD director and Pershing Trembath, area coordinator were in charge.

Fifty or more persons will be trained in radiological monitoring by instructors provided without cost by Michigan Technological University. About the same number of shelter managers will be trained. Shelters will be upgraded, with efforts made to plan for all persons. The shelters will be re-evaluated by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Legislator Pay Proposals Set

LANSING (AP)—The Governor's Commission on Legislative Pay Rates said today it will come up with recommendations in time for consideration in the current legislative session.

The recommendations may demand improved legislative performance, said leaders of the citizens group. The House already has launched a task force on legislative reform aimed at bringing the governmental body "into the 20th Century."

James Pollock, commission chairman and University of Michigan professor of political science, said no dollar figures were discussed at a closed meeting of the group.

Lawmakers now make $10,000 a year plus $2,500 in expenses. Some legislators have been pressing for an increase.

Pollock said there is a strong possibility the commission's recommendations "might be conditional upon a reorganization of the legislative process in accord with the best practices of the times, and to justify the compensation which it receives."

He said, however, any suggestions the commission makes wouldn't be binding on the Legislature.

'Swing Into Spring' Is Style Show Theme

Spring will come to Escanaba early this year with the Newcomers Club annual style show, "Swing into Spring," which will be held in the Escanaba Area High School Auditorium on Sunday evening, March 13, at 8 p. m.

This preview of spring fashions is held each spring in cooperation with local retailers, and as in other years, there will be over one hundred showings. Among the styles to be shown will be casual clothing, after five fashions, children's and men's clothing, sportswear, the much looked forward to bridal party, and a new category this year, a selection of fashions for the hard to fit figure. Retailers participating in the show will be Anderson-Bloom, Men's Wear; Blomstrom and Petersen Jewelry; Doris Shop; Elsie's Apparel; The Fair Store; Gartner's Apparel; J. C. Penney Store; Jerry's Sport Shop; the Leader Store; Montgomery Ward; the Mata Brown Shoppe; the Morrison Shop; Peterson's Shoes; and Robert's Shoes.

"Swing into Spring" will have as its chairman, Mrs. Richard Bryson and assisting chairman is Mrs. Donald Moore. Other members of Newcomers contributing their talents to the production will be Mrs. Ben Sandefur, and Mrs. Robert McDougall, decorations; Mrs. Norman Remington, models; Mrs. Dennis Wille, copy; Mrs. Frank Waitrovich, publicity; Mrs. Ralph Zenker, wardrobe; Mrs. Ronald DeVos, refreshments; Mrs. Robert Thompson, programs; and Mrs. Harry Middleton, tickets. Mrs. Forrest Henslee will act as consultant and the commentators will be Mrs. Donald Fitch and Jim Zimmerman.

Mrs. Middleton advises that tickets will go on sale Feb. 14 at Gartner, West End Drug, and Gust Asp. Tickets will also be available at the Newcomers Valentine bridge luncheon, to be held at the Ludington Hotel on Saturday, Feb. 12, at 1 p. m.

A refreshing change this year will be an intermission at which coffee and cookies will be served. Special prizes will also be awarded.

All residents of this area are invited to this preview of spring fashions.

HAIR STYLE
In Laos, elderly peasant women wear their hair cropped short and standing straight up. The hair style serves notice on men of the village that the wearer is no longer interested in marriage, being past the age of child-bearing.

Rain In Woods Perils Grouse

Tuesday's rains in the mid-Upper Peninsula affected wildlife in ways that can't be determined yet, suggests Joseph Vogt, Escanaba District biologist of the Conservation Department.

"It's sure to turn colder," said Vogt "and the rain helped knock the snow down, which is good for the deer, but which can be bad for the grouse, because its restricts their roosting sites."

"In southern Delta County and in fact in most of Delta the snow cover is so thin that the deer are running all over the place. In the north end of the district (Marquette and Alger counties) there's more snow but there have been pretty good crusts about a doot down in many places—enough to support a man. The late falls of snow have been fluffy, but of course the rain changed that and we had rain Tuesday at Chatham, Gwinn, Newberry and other areas.

On Monday our snow gauges showed 1.7 feet at Champion, 1.8 feet at Gwinn, 1 foot at Marquette, 0.6 foot at Ensign, 2.3 feet at Chatham, which is more than last year at this time, and 1.8 feet at Big Bay."

Cloyce Giblin, 64, Retired Officer, Dies In Hospital

MANISTIQUE—Cloyce William Giblin, 64, of Upper Inwood Township, died at 3:30 a.m. today in Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient six days.

Mr. Giblin moved to the area in 1952, following retirement from the Detroit Police Dept. after 25 years service. While here he had been a caretaker at the Blazed Trail Club and also a school bus driver for Inwood and Thompson Townships.

He was born in Findlay, O., on Oct. 9, 1901. He married Grace Roberts in Angola, Ind., in July, 1950.

Surviving beside his widow are two sons, Kenneth of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Michael of Detroit; three daughters, Mrs. Raymond (Mary) Stacey in Zephyrville, Fla., Mrs. Lloyd (Shirley) Lowery of Jacksonville, Fla., and Mrs. Hope (Betty) Smith of Detroit; three brothers, Wilbur and Richard of Toledo, O., and Carl of Cleveland; one sister, Mrs. Lawrence Barrett of Toledo, and eight grandchildren.

Complete funeral services will be conducted at Messier-Broulliere Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Friday. Officiating will be Al Goff and William Engle. Burial will be in Hiawatha Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home beginning at 4 p.m. Thursday.

Briefly Told

Traffic court summonses have been issued by Escanaba police to George V. Larson, Rapid River, and to Edward H. Desrampe, 615 N. 16th St., both for speeding.

The Escanaba Jaycees will meet at the Dells Supper Club at 7:30 tonight, when preparations for the Miss Delta County pageant will be discussed.

'Mossler No Homo'

testified that about a month after the slaying of the 69-year-old Mossler, Mrs. Mossler telephoned him. "She told me Mr. Foreman (defense attorney Percy Foreman) was coming to Miami to investigate Mr. Mossler's death. She asked me to cooperate with him and I assured her I would," he testified. "She said Mr. Foreman would be interested in the names of gay (homosexual) people her husband knew or gay places he had gone to, or phone calls or knocks on the door at night."

"Nasty Case" "I said there weren't any of those things and she said but there must have been. I said there wasn't. She said he must have kept it from me."

It was then that the question was put to Callagione whether Mossler was a homosexual.

The defense has raised the suggestion that homosexuality on the part of Mossler may have resulted in his slaying at the hands of a homosexual acquaintance.

"It's a mean, nasty case, your honor," State Atty. Richard Gerstein told Circuit Judge George Schulz Tuesday after a day of turbulent, legal infighting.

Time and again, Judge Schulz sent the all-male jury out of the courtroom while he patiently smoothed out roaring legal clashes between the state and the defense.

It was almost anticlimactic when state testimony ended with the soft voice of Miss Cleo Consuegra, 21, who used her maiden name although now married. A bad check charge placed her in the Dade County jail last August when Mrs. Mossler became a temporary inmate, before gaining release in $50,000 bail.

"I was her bunkmate, I had a bunk over her," said Miss Consuegra, a tall, black-haired woman.

Changed Story "We talked a lot," she testified. "First she told me that her husband was a homosexual."

The defense contends Mossler could have been bludgeoned and beaten to death by fellow inhabitants of a weird sexual underworld.

"At first," Miss Consuegra continued, "Mrs. Mossler said Powers hadn't been in Miami (at the time of the Mossler slaying), then she said he was in Miami. I asked her why she changed. She said he wasn't a member of the family and she didn't want him brought into this. I asked her where he was on the night of the murder, and she said she guessed he was having a drink."

Mrs. Mossler shook her head and called "Liar" at Miss Consuegra's testimony. But the blonde defendant had been far more vocal earlier in the day. An articulate convict had testified she had given him a $7,000 downpayment in 1962 to kill her husband.

"I have never seen or heard of this man," Mrs. Mossler cried in a voice audible through most of the courtroom.

The witness was Billy Frank Mulvey, 35, who insisted he was a thief but never a burglar.

By contrast, Powers never flinched when Mulvey testified, with prison jargon and cell block cynicism, that Powers admitted to him the stabbing of Mossler.

And They Put Muzzles On Dogs!

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The safety committee of University of Michigan Hospital issued its quarterly accident report Tuesday. It said one hospital employee was bitten by a dog, one patient was stung by a bee, and 17 employees were bitten by patients.

Deer Yard Tours Planned In U. P. During March

The Michigan Dept. of Conservation will conduct two special tours through Upper Peninsula deer yards next month, Joseph Vogt, district game biologist, said today.

Tours will be designed for the public and will be led by department game biologists.

Vogt said the first tour will leave the Gwinn equipment station at 1 p. m. March 20 and the second will leave from the Cusino Wildlife Station on March 27, also at 1 p. m. Tours will last from three to four hours.

The Cusino Wildlife Station is located just west of Shingleton on M-28 in Alger County. Vogt said some members of the State Legislature have been invited to take the second tour.

Men's Club Holds Monthly Supper Meeting

The Men's Club of Rapid River Congregational Church met at the parish hall Sunday evening for its monthly supper meeting. The evening meal was prepared by Leonard Nelson and Levi Barbo.

The club will again sponsor a spring auction sale of household and miscellaneous items. Plans were made to repair the parish hall tables at the March meeting. A spring cleaning bee will be held at the church and hall with the men in charge of floors.

Following the business meeting, two films were shown, "The Seasons," featuring nature scenes and "Timber Harvest," depicting old time forestry practices. Ray Chase and Tom Safford arranged the evening's program securing the films from the Michigan Conservation Department.

Cogdill Suspended By Detroit Lions

DETROIT (AP) — For the first time in their 31-year history the Detroit Lions have suspended a player.

Veteran end Gail Cogdill was given an indefinite suspension by the National Football League club Tuesday for remarks he reportedly made about the club's head coach, Harry Gilmer, its management and about other players on the team.

Gilmer, announcing the suspension in a two-paragraph statement backed by club owner William Clay Ford and General Manager Edwin Anderson, said:

"After a thorough investigation of remarks publicly made by Cogdill at a meeting in Flint (Mich.) last Wednesday, the weight of the evidence is that he did make positive statements detrimental to the best interests of the Detroit Lions management, its coaches, some of its players in particular, and to professional football in general."

Gilmer said he took the action against Cogdill with regret.

The suspension was the first made by the Lions. Alex Karras, a Lion defensive tackle, was suspended in 1963, but his was a league and not a club suspension.

"I'm not going to say anything. I'll take care of this myself. I have nothing to say," Cogdill said after the announcement.

Morris Joins College League

MORRIS, Minn. (AP)—The University of Minnesota-Morris branch has received official confirmation of its acceptance into the Northern Intercollegiate Conference effective next school year.

Addition of Morris brings to seven the NIC membership. Already members are the five Minnesota state colleges at Moorhead, Bemidji, St. Cloud, Mankato and Winona, plus Michigan Tech.

Writer Claims Mays Has Inked Record Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A sports columnist has reported that Willie Mays already has signed a $125,000 contract that will make the San Francisco Giants' center fielder the highest-paid player in baseball history.

But club Vice President Charles (Chub) Feeney says, "I think the report is a little premature. We'll have an announcement about that in a few days."

Jack Hanley, who writes for a series of northern California newspapers and travels with the Giants, wrote Tuesday that Mays had signed his contract the day before at Candlestick Park.

Wichita Bumps Ranked Loyola On Home Court

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was an active night on the basketball market.

The Wheatshockers went up, the Cornhuskers went down and Rice was unchanged.

Wichita's Wheatshockers, nearly invincible at home, made a shambles of Chicago Loyola's No. 3 ranking by beating the Ramblers 92-84. It was the 11th straight victory at home for the Shockers who have won 31 of the last 32 regular season games in Wichita and 59 of 63 in the last five seasons.

Nebraska's ninth-ranked dropped an 85-81 overtime decision at Oklahoma City when the Chiefs' Jerry Lee Wells scored two baskets in the final three seconds of the extra period.

It was the same old story for Rice at Houston. The Owls hung on against Arkansas until the final three minutes when the Razorbacks pulled away for a 76-71 victory — Rice's 26th consecutive loss.

In Syracuse, the Orangemen romped past Cornell 120-85 with Dave Bing doing most of the damage. Bing, a 6-foot-3 senior, scored 39 points and had 25 rebounds and eight assists as Syracuse ran its record to 14-3.

In other major games, Detroit's Dorie Murray led the Titans past touring St. Bonaventure 89-84. Boston College started slowly but broke away to a 101-80 victory over Massachusetts and Georgetown barely made it past Rutgers 76-73 in overtime.

Elsewhere, Utah walloped New Mexico State 131-94. Penn State scored 63 points in the second half and whipped Kent State 94-72. Georgia Tech hit 66 per cent of its first-half shots and rolled past Furman 110-68 and Texas edged Texas Christian 77-75.

Wichita got 25 points and 18 rebounds from Warren Armstrong and ended Chicago Loyola's winning streak at 14 games. Kelly Pete hit 19 for the Shockers, defending Missouri Valley conference champs, who now are 11-6.

Corky Bell had 26 points and Billy Smith 25 for the Ramblers, who suffered their second loss in 18 starts. The other setback came against Oklahoma City, which spent Tuesday hounding and finally beating Nebraska.

The Chiefs tied the score on Gary Gray's 30-footer with regulation time running out. But Nebraska opened a four-point bulge in the extra session before Wells rallied Oklahoma City.

The Cornhuskers held a 81-77 bulge but Wells hit from the side and Jim Ware, the country's leading rebounder, scored two foul shots for the tie.

Then Wells, who finished with 27 points, grabbed a jump ball and put Oklahoma City ahead 83-81 with three seconds remaining. He hit again after Nebraska lost the ball on the pass in.

Atlanta Mayor Says Move Best Thing To Happen To Baseball Since Ty Cobb

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Mayor Ivan Allen says Georgians are ready to prove that "the Braves' move to Atlanta was the best thing that has happened to baseball since Ty Cobb."

Wisconsin officials fighting the National League baseball team's transfer out of Milwaukee undoubtedly disagree with the Atlanta mayor who says he no longer has any questions about where the Braves will play in 1966.

A ruling by Fulton Superior Court Judge Sam Phillips McKenzie Tuesday "ends for all time, so far as Atlanta and the Southeast are concerned, any questions about the future of the Atlanta Braves," Allen said.

McKenzie ordered the Braves to disregard a Wisconsin court order and comply with a 25-year contract which calls for them to play their home games in Atlanta.

"From here on, the success of the Braves and the success of Atlanta and the Southeast as a showplace for major league baseball is up to the people of Atlanta and Georgia," Allen said.

"I want the sports writers in Milwaukee and Chicago and New York who have been crying about the Milwaukee fans — who let the Braves down except when they won pennants — to come down here to our town and see real baseball fans cheering a real baseball team, season after season, never deserting them, win or lose," Allen said.

Wisconsin officials, contending that the Braves and the National League violated the state's antitrust laws, have filed suit against the team. A Wisconsin court last month ordered the Braves to prepare to play their games in Milwaukee in 1966.

McKenzie, in his ruling in Georgia Superior Court, said he was reluctant to pass an order "which might conflict with an order of a court of another sovereign state."

"This judicial reluctance cannot, however, justify this court's shirking, however distasteful, a duty imposed," Judge McKenzie said.

Cooks Defeats Bronco Cagers

COOKS — Coach Norman Jahn's Cooks cagers roped and rode the Bark River-Harris Broncos in Central League action here Tuesday night, 93-62.

The Clippers clung to Rapid River's heels in the race for the Central League championship by notching their ninth conference victory against two defeats. Rapid River is 8-1 atop the standings.

Deadeye Phil Hartman tossed in 19 points while playing three quarters of the game. Two other Clippers reached high double figures with Bruce Swagart scoring 25 and Neil Hartman 21. Joe Carley, 5 foot 11 inch junior, was a demon on the boards with 18 rebounds.

Jim Hooker topped Bark River's scoring efforts with 26 points.

Bark River won the jayvee game, 61-55.

Hand Ailment Hits Venturi

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Ken Venturi says he may have to pass up the $60,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament which begins Thursday because his hands are bothering him again.

Venturi, winner of this year's Lucky International at San Francisco, came off a practice round Tuesday complaining of cold hands caused by a circulatory ailment.

"Even with gloves, my hands hurt," said Venturi. "I'm colder here than I was in San Francisco. If it gets colder I may not be able to play."

More than one-half inch of rain fell in Phoenix during a 24-hour period which ended Tuesday and a blast of wintry weather has sent temperatures not much above freezing.

Cloudy skies were forecast for today's $2,500 pro-amateur prelude to the 72-hole tourney at the 6,765-yard, par 36-35-71 Phoenix Country Club course.

Booster Club Plans Banquet

The Holy Name High School Booster Club will meet Thursday, Feb. 10, at 8 p. m. at the multipurpose room to make final plans for the annual sports banquet.

The club will also make final plans for Parents Night and the district Class B tournament program.

A Conservation Department film will be shown and refreshments served.

The Upper Peninsula high school basketball season is slipping swiftly down the drain and district tournament time is right around the corner. . . . Escanaba will be the site of two tournaments this year, one at Holy Name and the other at Escanaba High. . . . Competing in the Class C district at the Eskey gym will be Stephenson, Marquette Baraga and Norway. . . . Entered in the Class B district at Holy Name will be Gladstone, Menominee, Munising and the host Crusaders.

Mel Peterson, the all-time Stephenson High School basketball great who will be back for a 10-year reunion with a benefit game at the Eagle gym Saturday night, still ranks as one of the highest college point producers in the history of the sport. . . . In his four years at Wheaton, Marquette Mel scored 2,522 points. . . . Only 29 college basketball players have ever scored more than that. . . . Peterson graduated from Wheaton in 1960.

Con Yagodzinski, former Holy Name standout, has reached double scoring figures for the Northern Michigan Wildcats 10 times this far this season. . . . The 6 foot 5 inch junior forward has tallied 193 points for an average of 14.8 per game, third highest on the team. . . . He is the second leading rebounder with 132. . . . Coach Stan Albeck's cagers are averaging 109.3 points per game, tops in the country.

The Marquette Iron Rangers whipped Green Bay twice over the weekend in United States Hockey League action, 6-4 and 5-3, to remain deadlocked with St. Paul for second place in the league standings. . . . The Rangers and the Bobcats tangle again this weekend, clashing Saturday night and Sunday afternoon on the Brown County Arena rink.

Great Lakes Conference teams are still holding their own against non-conference competition this season. . . . Great Lakes quints have stepped outside the league 36 times and have scored 18 victories against 18 defeats. . . . The only conference team that has been unable to win against non-league opposition is Marquette, loser of five straight outside foes. . . . In the home court department, GLC host teams have won 43 and lost 27 for a 62 percent success figure.

The Kingsford Flivvers literally chopped the towering Crystal Falls Trojans down to size in a recent Menominee Range Conference game, but they paid the consequences. . . . Kingsford outscored Crystal by two field goals, 23 to 21, but committed 32 personal fouls in the game. . . . The Trojans made the most of their parade to the foul line, hitting on 29 of 45 opportunities to run their current victory string to nine games with a 71-58 verdict.

Coach Ray Mariucci's Kingsford wrestling team registered its seventh victory of the season this week by whipping Munising, 37-13. . . . The Flivvers have bowed only to undefeated Marquette in dual match competition and will be seeking revenge when the teams clash at Kingsford Saturday night.

The Marquette Baraga Royals make a habit of bursting from the gate to overpower their opposition in the early minutes of action, and Coach Fred Boddy's cagers were right in form in an 85-57 triumph over Soo Loretto. . . . The Royals raced to a 30-13 advantage in the first frame and led, 50-29, at halftime enroute to their 14th victory against a single loss to Crystal Falls.

Trout Creek, the lone remaining undefeated cage quint in the Upper Peninsula, made it 13 in a row by knocking off the challenging Mass Rockets in a Porcupine Mountain Conference clash, 91-68. . . . Bob Gale, leading scorer in the U.P., drilled 44 points for Coach Bruce Warren's Anglers.

Curt Lahti, former All-Upper Peninsula case star at Houghton, tallied 21 points as his Superior College team upset Plattville, 93-76, in Wisconsin State University Conference action. . . . Dick DeZur of Hurley scored 22 points and hauled down 28 rebounds for an all-time Superior record.

Escanaba Wins Hockey Clash

Bob DeGrand bulged the twine with three goals to lead the Escanaba Juvenile hockey team to a 5-3 victory over Gladstone.

Bob LaCarte and John Ferrari added a goal each as the Escanaba sextet notched its fourth victory of the season.

G. Micheau scored twice and B. Germain once for Gladstone.

Four Perfect League Records

Upper Peninsula Quints Near Conference Crowns

MARQUETTE—Three Upper Peninsula basketball teams can win championships while two others can clinch a share of conference titles this week.

Regardless of what runner-up quintets do, Trout Creek, Channing and Ishpeming are only a step away from league thrones. The Anglers play two Porcupine Mountains games, with Marquette and second-place Bergland, and can wrap up 1965 laurels with victories over both. Channing already has clinched a share of the Big Seven crown, needs only a triumph over Pembine, Wis., to get beyond reach of Powers and Hermansville. Ishpeming wraps up its Great Lakes campaign against old-rival Negaunee and a repeat victory over the Miners would give the Hematites their fourth championship.

Ready to grab at least half a title are Ironwood of the Michigan-Wisconsin and DeTour of the Eastern U. P.

Only four teams have gone this far with perfect records in league competition.

Trout Creek—the only all-winning outfit left in Peninsula prep ranks—has an 11-0 mark in Porcupine Mountains play. Channing is 9-0 in the Big Seven, Iron River has an identical mark in the Menominee Range and Stephenson is 4-0 in the new Great Northern.

Spartan Relays Slated Saturday

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—

Fourteen defending track and field champions are returning for the 18-event Michigan State Relays Saturday.

The field will total 500 athletes from 27 colleges — "the best over-all field we've had in several years with several records particularly in the field events, in jeopardy," said meet director Fran Dittich.

Defending individual champions are Joe Neihardt of Central Michigan, pole vault; Mickey Miller, Oklahoma State, 300-yard run; Gene Crews, Missouri, shot put; Sven Herndon, Missouri, high jump; Charlie Brown, Missouri, 60; Gene Washington, Michigan State, high hurdles; Louis Sims, Purdue, low hurdles; and Ed Dean, Notre Dame, mile.

Trenary Upsets Rock Cage Team

ROCK—The Trenary Comets, who found the victory combination in their game against Nahma last weekend, repeated here Tuesday night with a 68-47 upset over the Rock Little Giants.

Connecting on 27 of their 65 shots from the field, Coach Steve Ellis' cagers took a slim lead in the early going, built it to 36-23 at halftime and hammered the Little Giants with a 22 point clincher in the fourth quarter.

The host Little Giants suffered through their worst shooting night of the season, hitting only 18 field goals in 67 attempts.

Brown Requests Lease Of Land

The Escanaba Planning Commission will meet in the City Hall at 4 p. m. Thursday, Feb. 10, to consider two requests, according to Milton Embs, administrative assistant.

R. F. Brown of Lansing, owner of the former Jensen commercial fish house property on the shore east of Delta County Jail building, will be present at the meeting in connection with his request to lease state-owned bottomland in the area of the old fishery.

Brown had originally sought from the state the purchase of the bottomland (built up or man-made land extending outward from the shoreline) and the state referred the request to the City of Escanaba. Brown said he was interested in the development of a private marina.

The Escanaba Planning Commission questioned the project because of the limited area. The state was hesitant about selling the made-land.

Brown revised his request and is now asking for a lease of the land rather than its purchase.

The other request to come before the Planning Commission at the Thursday meeting is from Carlton Nelson of Escanaba, who asks that the city vacate a piece of land 30 by 140 feet, once a part of S. 19th St., now vacated.

1. Card of Thanks

Ketcham

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and sympathy in our bereavement, the death of our dear wife and mother, Viola Ketcham. We are grateful to Rev. Fr. Fredrich Karlheim for his comforting words, the pallbearers, those who offered the use of their cars, those who sent floral and spiritual bouquets and to the nurses of St. Francis Hospital.

Mr. Ed Ketcham and Family

2. In Memoriam

Erickson

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Lydia Erickson, who passed away one year ago today. Your loving face and patient smile. Your sadness we recall. You had a kindly word for each, and died beloved by all. We miss you now, our hearts are sore in the night. As time goes by we miss you more. Your loving smile, your gentle face. No one can fill your vacant place.

Sadly missed by Husband and Children

3. Announcements

ATTENTION SENIORS: It's worth the trip to DELTA STUDIOS in Gladstone. Call for appointment — 429-9412.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
The Purchasing Committee of the Delta County Board of Supervisors will accept sealed bids on the following described Radio Equipment, on or before February 18, 1966 A.D. at 4:00 o'clock P.M. in the office of the County Clerk.

Description:
3 Transistorized Mobile Units. Sets will be installed with rear mount accessories for installation in 12 volt cars. Transmitters will employ no more than two vacuum tubes and have a minimum output of 80 watts. The receivers will be superheterodyne type. Equipment will be heavy duty construction and include all accessories to permit for two-way radio in the Police radio service in the 144 to 174 MC band.

1 Repeater Station. Station will be installed at the County Road Commission tower and will transmit frequency 144 to 174 MC band. Station will be included in an uplink fully enclosed housing. Test metering will be provided. All solid state circuits will be employed except tubes will be permitted in the driver and final amplifier.

1 Control Station. Station will be installed at the Sheriff's office for communicating with the mobile units thru the repeater station. This station will employ all solid state components and have a minimum output of 30 watts. General Requirements. All equipment will meet all current FCC requirements and be constructed to the highest heavy duty standards. Supplier will describe service, back up. Any exceptions to the above details must be explained in detail.

TRADE IN EQUIPMENT. This equipment may be inspected by contacting with the Delta County Sheriff Department.

All bids must be addressed to the Delta County Clerk, 310 Ludington Street, Escanaba, Michigan. Bids must be plainly marked "Radio Equipment Bid".

The County of Delta reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids, and waive any irregularities in bidding.

HER TRUE NAME

Matoaka was the true name of Pocahontas, Indians believed that to tell or speak aloud one's true name gave to the enemy, or to the evil spirit, a power over that person.

Relief for night-backache lets you sleep again

Sometimes backache comes like a thief in the night, "steals" away your sleep, then robs you of energy all the next day. When the cause is overwork or just the daily strain of exertion or tension, that's the time to try Doan's Pills for speedy relief. Millions have found Doan's pain-relieving action often brings welcome relief from this nagging night-backache, headache or muscular pain in the night.

Then, too, unwise eating or drinking may be the cause of minor yet annoying bladder irritation. Doan's Pills often help to bring prompt relief in two ways: first, their soothing effect on bladder irritation. And second, their mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Keep Doan's Pills handy. Millions have relied on Doan's for over sixty years. And for your convenience, get the large size.

Delta Radio Club Hears Treichel

The Delta County Radio Club, meeting at Bay de Noc Community College Monday evening, welcomed visitors and expressed appreciation for the cooperation being received in keeping radio channel 9 clear of interference for emergency messages.

Sgt. Walter Treichel of the Gladstone State Police post talked to the Radio Club about the services the group provides to the people of the community.

He told how in Lower Michigan there was an emergency channel with the State Police and he thought it might be possible to work out something similar with the State Police in Gladstone and city police in Escanaba.

Within the past several weeks REACT (Radio Emergency Association Team) has reported several accident cases in which assistance was summoned more readily.

GM Adds Dime To Dividend

NEW YORK (AP) — General Motors Corp. upped its quarterly dividend 10 cents to 85 cents Monday but made no move on a long-rumored stock split.

The dividend, payable March 10 to stockholders of record Feb. 17, compared with 75 cents declared in the first three quarters of 1965. GM also declared a special dividend of 75 cents at the end of the second quarter last year and a year-end payment of $2.25 per share.

GM directors set May 20 for the company's annual meeting in Detroit at their meeting here Monday.

Notice To Escanaba Taxpayers

February 15, 1966 is the last day for paying your 1965 County and School taxes without the 4% penalty.

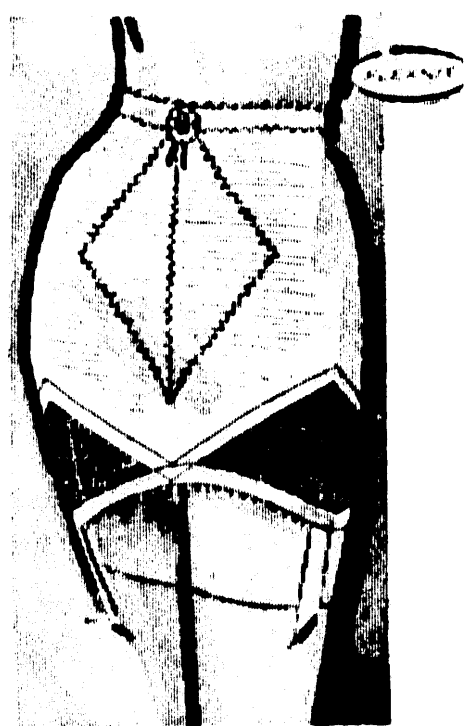

Dog Licenses for 1966 are now available at the City Hall. Proof of inoculation against rabies since July 1, 1965 must be presented to obtain a dog license. Cost of license for male dogs $1.00, for spayed dogs $1.00, and $2.00 for female dogs.

After March 1, licenses must be procured at the County Treasurer's office at double the cost.

Office Hours: 8:45 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. except Saturday and Sunday.
